What is The Civilian Defense Force?

We are your friends and neighbors, coming together with one common cause; standing to protect your local community when existing safeguards are not enough.

This can be in cases of natural disaster, when we'll fill sandbags, help get people to safety, and bring supplies to those who can't get out (among other things).

It could be in times of internal strife, when we'll stand guard to protect our homes, businesses, friends and family from lawlessness and violent civil unrest.

And it could be in the event of unwelcome action on American soil by foreign enemies, when we'll stand side-by-side with our American armed forces to help repel the invaders.

The CDF is many things:

Neighborhood Watch

Search and Rescue

Backup for Law Enforcement

Defenders of the Homeland

But mostly, we are you, and others just like you from your local community—everyday people who believe in preserving the safety and security of our community, and will stand together with our fellow neighbors when our peaceful way of life is threatened...no matter what the threat might look like or from where it might come.

“The Civilian Defense Force is an all-volunteer community-based civic organization dedicated to defending and protecting our neighborhoods from threats that may overwhelm existing safeguards. These threats may include natural disaster, the activities of foreign adversaries on American soil, or domestic lawlessness and oppression. We stand in opposition to those who seek to reduce or otherwise tamper with our constitutional rights or would interfere with the free exercise thereof, including via means of coercion such as intimidation through violence. We train to present a strong, united response when faced with crises such as these, to protect our lives and the lives of our neighbors; our property; and our established way of life. We do this without regard to race, creed, or religion, and with an abiding respect for the United States Constitution and the laws which spring from it.”

-The CDF Mission Statement

“

For all the Civilian Defense Force is, there are many things we are not:

We're not “anti-government”

We're not “racist”

We're not a “militia”

We aren't a “private army”

We don't exist as an “offensive force”

We're not a government organization

We aren't paid (strictly volunteer)

We aren't opposed to the free expression of ideas, the right to peaceful protest, or the expectation for redress of grievances by the government to the extent that these activities do not unduly interfere with or infringe upon the rights of other peaceful Americans.

We aren't aggressive, except in defense of our friends, family, community, and peaceful way of life.
